Carlos: That's good, Mom. If I ask you to pay me back my money, what's that all right with you?

Mom: Look, if I owe you money, I'm perfectly fine with that if I have it.

Carlos: If you have it. That seems perfectly fair to me. And if you don't have it, what are we going to do?

Mom: Then I'll be in trouble.

Carlos: You'll be in trouble. Mom, I've always known you to be a very, very honest person.

Mom: Yes.

Carlos: You can tell me you're honest. It's true.

Mom: Yes, I think so.
